Hit the dormitory manager directly!

We interviewed Mr. Takeda, the head of the dormitory, about how the dormitory has been used for the past year and a half.

Mr. Takeda, dormitory manager

Q. Please tell me about the operation status of the dormitory.

There are 240 rooms in Left Fuji Dormitory, and the high occupancy rate is maintained throughout the year for the benefit of all employees.

has been used. Recently, we have received support staff from the Yagi area and research from overseas bases.

We accept both men and women, such as staff who come to Osamu. In addition, due to the high utilization rate,

For this reason, we have prepared a maximum of 15 temporary accommodation rooms, but we are currently operating 10 rooms.

Q. Please tell us how the dormitory residents are doing.

Most people live by following the rules. Sometimes garbage is sorted

Although there are things that are not done, we put up notices on bulletin boards to call attention to them. devil

In addition, overseas staff may not be able to follow the rules due to cultural differences, language barriers, etc.

However, it has been improved through careful communication.

vinegar.

Q. What kind of comments have you received from dormitory users?

(Opinions, requests, etc.)

Some opinions, such as improving the network environment and preventing bicycles from falling over in windy bicycle parking lots

I had a chance to have it, but there are few these days. Left Fuji dormitory is new

It is the same as a one-room apartment for living alone, so the user's

Satisfaction surveys show a 90% satisfaction rate.

Improvement example ① Bicycle parking lot. The bicycles are neatly lined up against the strong sea breeze!

Q. Left Fuji dormitory also has a splendid multi-purpose room.

Please let me know how it works.

It is used in various ways. Employees who study TOEIC after returning home every day, and by company alumni

It is used in Go circles. In addition, the multipurpose room is open to the outside.

For example, ALSOK (a security company) uses it for training. recently

Then, as a support for TOEIC study, we set up partitions in the room and created an environment where you can concentrate on your studies.

also provided. Please make good use of the multipurpose hall.

Improvement example 2: Multi-purpose hall You can concentrate!

Company OB can also use it for Go

Q. One and a half years have passed since the dormitory opened, but the facilities and rooms in the dormitory are still kept clean. Please tell me what he does to keep it clean.

The dormitory is cleaned every day. For details, please refer to the professional who actually does the cleaning. Please ask the cleaning staff.

Cleaning staff interview

Q. What do you keep in mind to keep the dormitory clean?

It's really basic, but it's "keeping a beautiful place beautiful". Left wealth Shiryo is new and clean, so we don't do anything special. laundry dust If there is a dirty part such as removing, focus on that part and be conscious of returning it to its original state doing.

The temporary accommodation room will be cleaned when the person leaves. room dirty by people In addition to changing sheets and drying futons, especially in the bathroom We focus on cleaning around the water.

State of cleaning: We are cleaning with all our heart!

We also dry futons!

Live voice of dormitory users

In order to confirm the truth of the interview with the dormitory manager, dormitory users returning home from work

Direct hit. It was an interview filled with surprisingly positive voices.

All users interviewed. It is used by people from various departments.

positive opinion collection

- Anyway, I am most happy that it is new and beautiful.
- It was very helpful to be able to move in right away, as everything necessary for daily life, such as home appliances, is provided.
- I am glad that there is a stove and you can cook yourself freely. I also make lunch and bring it with me.
- I am happy to take a bath whenever I want. When I was in Shimbashi dormitory, there were restrictions on when I could use the public bath, but now I have more freedom, so I feel less stressed.
- The room is quiet. I have hardly ever noticed any noise from the next room.
- Laundry is also substantial, and it is comfortable because you can dry it in the bathroom.
- I thought it would be small, so I thought about other apartments, but the water and utility bills are all included, so it's enough for a single transferee. As a result, I'm glad I entered the left Fuji dormitory.
- I moved into the dormitory just before the entrance ceremony, but I liked it and have lived there ever since.
- It also gave me an opportunity to get along with my peers.
- When I requested to prevent the bicycle from falling over in the parking lot, they improved it properly. Thank you!
- There is a supermarket nearby, so it is convenient for daily life.
- I work in District A, but I'm happy that I can choose to commute by bus or on foot.
- Even if you walk, it's just 15 minutes and it's good for exercise in terms of location.
- It's clean, easy to use, and doesn't feel like a dormitory. It's the same as a studio apartment.
- I also like the view of Mt.Fuji.

I'm satisfied, but I have to say...

- I've lived in a detached house for a long time, so I'm still not used to unit baths. I wonder if I can relax a little more in the restroom~ (laughs)
- I have a large body, so it would be best if the bathroom was more spacious, but I am satisfied with it.

After finishing the interview for the first time in a year and a half

I interviewed the left Fuji dormitory for the first time in a year and a half.

I am happy to receive positive feedback, which paid off the hard work I put into setting up the dormitory.

I was.

Please use this wonderful left Fuji dormitory by all means.

This is what Kihara from the Human Resources & General Affairs Department told us from the site!

HR & General Affairs Department, Reporter Kihara

Left Fuji dormitory in full operation. It seems that the dormitory will be loved by employees more and more in the future!
